

---

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

RE: OLAJIDE ANTHONY BORISADE

I write to acknowledge that I have known and worked with Mr Olajide Anthony Borisade for nearly 10years. We have worked on several projects as colleagues and as his project manager, without doubt he is a reliable person and a professional to the core.

In 2007 we both worked for a company called Enterprise Group Limited, Anthony was a .net developer in that group for almost 2years. He was outstandingly developing using tools such as Visual Studio, ASP.Net, JavaScript, and ADO.Net to mention few. As at then, he was in charge of the company's web application which served as the back office to its commercial site where customers could interact with their products and make payments. It was a successful project, which would have been a nightmare without him.

Between 2009-2013, we both worked for another company known as CDS Mortgages Limited. Then I was working from the position of a Project Manager while Anthony was the Development Team Lead. As a matter of fact he was responsible from designing to testing and documentation of all our projects. I was very impressed and he did very well. He was also able to mentor all the junior developers on the projects very well too.

Anthony is outstanding team player and is technically very strong. He is very easy to work with, thorough in his approach to development and always security conscious.

Anthony and I have both been working for a new company known as iBrokerMe Limited since 2014 till date and we have made a remarkable progress on the company's set out goals. Currently, Anthony develops with the current or latest technologies around now such as JavaScript libraries (NodeJS, AngularJS, ReactJS, KnockoutJS); Html 5, ASP.NET (MVC 6) NOSQL databases like (MongoDB, Redis, Elastic Search). He is also using testing tools like Karma and Jasmine.

Overall, he is very dependable and passionate about his job and IT generally. As earlier mentioned Anthony is exceptionally security conscious and consequently to the best of his knowledge and abilities has ensured we have a solid infrastructure in place to prevent our system from being compromised.

He is always eager to learn and very attentive to detail.

I recommend him for this course and endorse his interest in your reputable institution. I truly believe that he is capable and determined to succeed.

Yours faithfully

Bernhardt Asare-Brown
Technical Operations Manager.